EXHIBIT POLICY: ROBARTS LIBRARY

The Mission of the University of Toronto Libraries is to foster the search for knowledge and understanding. Exhibits are valuable in this regard as they facilitate community outreach, user education and relationship building with the academic community. They serve to inform, educate, entertain, and promote the Library’s information resources and services in keeping with its mission to foster the search for knowledge and understanding in the University and the wider community as well as its role in supporting the University’s teaching and research activities.

Robarts Library’s primary exhibit space is located on the first floor in the central area and on the second floor in the north and south porticos. This policy defines the philosophy, goals, best practices and acceptance guidelines for exhibits in these areas.

The International and Community Outreach Coordinating Group will be responsible for proposing revisions and updates to this policy for approval by the Deputy Chief Librarian.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTION

Exhibits in the Robarts Library will be selected in accordance with the exhibit policy and goals above and the specific criteria below. Exhibit spaces will be made available to University and University-affiliated departments, groups, and organizations, to student organizations registered with the University of Toronto Student Life division, and to external exhibitors sponsored by the Library.
The following criteria will be taken into account when considering exhibit proposals. Exhibits do not necessarily need to meet all criteria. The Library reserves the right to approve or reject all exhibit proposals, to exercise final approval for the content and layout of the exhibit, and to make all decisions regarding length of exhibit duration and placement of the exhibit within the library.

CRITERIA:

- Relevance of subject to library collections and/or the Library’s role in supporting the teaching and research activities of the University.
- Appropriateness of subject for location and audience.
- Broadness of appeal of the primary subject.
- Relation to other events or exhibits in the library.
- Does not promote the financial gain of any individual, organization, or commercial entity.
- Inclusion of descriptive materials which contextualize the content of the exhibit.

The University of Toronto Libraries affirms the principles stated in the American Library Association’s Library Bill of Rights and Intellectual Freedom Manual. Decisions of the International and Community Outreach Coordinating Group regarding approval of exhibit proposals are made in consultation with the manual’s chapter on exhibit spaces and bulletin boards.

EXHIBIT PROPOSAL PROCESS

The process for proposing an exhibit in the Robarts Library is as follows:

1. Prospective exhibitor reads Exhibit Policy.
2. Exhibitor completes and signs the Exhibit Proposal form, and sends a copy to jack.leong@utoronto.ca, Chair of the International and Community Outreach Committee.
3. International and Community Outreach Coordinating Group approves or rejects the proposal in a timely manner. The prospective exhibitor is contacted with the result.

EXHIBIT LOCATIONS

The Robarts Library has three exhibit locations, one on the first floor and two on the second floor. The central area on the first floor features five glass cases with removable shelving which may house books, posters, other print material and artifacts. Exhibits booked for this area typically make use of all five cases.

The north and south porticos on the second floor feature separate, but identical, exhibit facilities. Each consists of two arched rows of thirteen stations which may house posters, artifacts and/or digital displays. Exhibits accepted for the second floor spaces will generally be of a longer duration than exhibits housed on the first floor.

Approved exhibits will be booked at the discretion of the Library, based on availability and suitability for the space.
